B.C. CIVIL SERVICE POSTPONE MASS WALKOUT TO TUESDAY

SURVEY OF B.C. STRIKE

VANCOUVER (CP) — More than 11,000 British Columbia civil servants struck against the provincial government and within minutes of the strike deadline pickets started to appear at government establishments in the first such walkout in Canadian history.

The strike began at 7 a. m. PST over bargaining rights.

More than 250 pickets carried yellow placards outlining strike demands as they marched around the Legislature Buildings in Victoria, the provincial capital.

At Vancouver, toll gate operators walked out of their booths and pickets appeared at both the Lions Gate bridge across Burrard Inlet and Oak Street bridge across the Fraser River. Cars which normally would have lined up to pay tolls for the provincially owned spans drove across briskly without stopping.

BROADCAST MESSAGES

At both Victoria and Vancouver, the striking British Columbia Government Employees Association broadcast a 15-minute message telling its 11,200 members not to report to work.

Association spokesmen said such essential services as jails, mental hospitals and the like would continue to be manned. SEVERE SNOWSTORM.

Pickets in the Vancouver area were faced with outside duty in a severe snowstorm, only the second here this winter.

At Victoria, some 150 members of the operating engineers went on strike at the Legislature Buildings, leaving the buildings without heat in weather in which the temperature dropped to 34 degrees overnight and some snow fell.

There were reports here that members of the teamsters union operating buses in suburban West Vancouver would honor pickets at the Lions Gate bridge, which they would normally cross to come here.

USE PRIVATE BRIDGE

Instead, they were using the Second Narrows bridge, a privately owned toll span about six miles farther east along Burrard Inlet between Vancouver and North Shore communities.

The vast corridors of the Legislature Building echoed hollowly without the usual clatter of typewriters and the scurry of feet.

Outside, young men and women carried placards saying "fair wages and fair employment practices" and "B. C. government employment on strike—sorry for the inconvenience."

The latter was apparently a gibe at Highway Minister P. A. Gagliardi and signs over his name with similar wording at highway construction projects.

Ed O'Connor, general secretary of the employees association said that "everything is going according to plan."

"It's simply a matter of waiting for the government to act."

FEARR BOAT TIED-UP

In the interior, the government ferry on Kootenay Lake between Balfour and Kootenay Bay was tied up. It is part of the southern trans-provincial highway.

Pickets were also set up at Oakalla Prison farm in suburban Burnaby and at the Essondale Mental Hospital and Woodlands School for Retarded Children in See—B.C. SURVEY Page 8

Obey Rule Of Law In Return To Duty

VICTORIA (CP)—Striking British Columbia civil servants were ordered back to their jobs today in the face of a government anti-picketing injunction.

Ed O'Connor, general secretary of the B.C. Government Employees Association, said in Vancouver the Association has told its more than 11,000 members to return to work immediately.

He said the strike has been postponed until after a hearing next Tuesday on the government's injunction against picketing of government buildings.

The order came only four hours after the employees walked off their jobs in a strike that quickly paralyzed government service in the province and involved more than 12,000 civil servants.

Jack Sherlock, local BCGEA president told The Courier at noon that he had received confirmation from Mr. O'Connor by telephone. He at once ordered all civil servants on strike in Kelowna to take down placards and return to work.

Sherlock said the strike had been "most effective, demonstrating solidarity of civil servants throughout the province. . . most of us feel the issue of recognition is a lot more important than the pay hike. . . government employees have demonstrated en masse they'll not be accepting the government's stand on this and other matters."

Daily Courier Staff Writer

For the first time since Lake Okanagan Bridge was officially opened July 19, by HRH Princess Margaret, vehicles were crossing the pontoon-structure toll free.

Other local developments following the government employees' strike which went into effect at 7 a. m. today: All government offices were closed.

Liquor store was not opened. Special permission given for the issuing of death and burial certificates.

No marriage licences or motor car licences are being issued. Medical health unit looking after emergency cases.

About 150 government employees in Kelowna are affected by the strike. Jack Sherlock, president of the local association, said special permission had been given for the Okanagan Lake Bridge lift span operator to remain on duty; guards will be allowed to protect toll bridge equipment as well as the three ferries presently tied up at Westside.

The local government employees met last night to finalize plans for the strike. Pickets were assigned to various points, and in most cases, they are working in two-hour shifts.

Most of the picketers were in a happy frame of mind when a Courier reporter made a tour of the city earlier this morning. However, one of them remarked that it was "most embarrassing." "This is the first time I've been on a picket line, and I hope it's the last," he said.

Some of the employees of the government liquor stores throughout the valley were somewhat bitter over an ultimatum allegedly issued by Donald McGugan, chairman of the government liquor control board. Mr. McGugan is said to have notified all vendors throughout the province that they were to open their stores as usual Friday morning. If liquor store clerks refuse to enter the store, the vendor was authorized to hire new help, it was stated by the same well-informed source.

SPECIAL PASS

The BCGEA agreed to grant a special pass to the liquor vendor in order that he could protect government property. Likewise, special passes were issued to the bridge span operator, and special guards engaged to protect government property.

A special pass also was issued to Government Agent E. Ross Outman for court purposes. Mr. Outman also was issuing death and burial certificates, in order that the public would not be inconvenienced.

The local president of the government employees association explained that while the men are on strike, they are not getting clubs.

THIRSTY GET HIT

Imbibers are the only ones who will feel the initial effects of the strike—that is if they did not stock up on liquor before the store closed last night at 6 o'clock.

Beer parlors, cocktail lounges and private clubs will not feel the effect for some time. It is understood all liquor outlets stocked up heavily several days ago, and they have sufficient supplies on hand to last for at least another week or 10 days. It is possible that beverage rooms will "ration" bottled beer sold over the counter, a spokesman said. Beer or liquor is not allowed to be sold in private clubs.

Government Bans RCMP Reinforcement To Newfie

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government has decided against sending RCMP reinforcements to help police the Newfoundland loggers' strike, at least for the area around Grand Falls. About 200 RCMP officers serve in Newfoundland as a provincial force.

The request for reinforcements was made by Newfoundland Attorney-General Leslie Curtis following a clash between strikers and police at Badger Tuesday night.

On Wednesday night a TCA aircraft, which was to have flown about 50 RCMP officers from the Maritime Provinces to Newfoundland, was stopped at Moncton.

Justice Minister Fulton, who must approve such requests for reinforcements, has not said why the reinforcements were stopped or what the considerations are behind the postponement of a final decision.

Meanwhile, in the Commons today Mr. Fulton indicated that without evidence to support suggestions that the RCMP acted beyond its powers in Newfoundland there will be no independent investigation by the federal government.

B.C. ROUNDUP

KAMLOOPS (CP)—A German princess—Margareta Wittgenstein of Berlesberg, West Germany—has bought Duke Martin's ranch at Alexis Creek in the Chilcotin country west of Williams Lake. Martin, whose "Duke" is a name not a title, attended the annual bull sale here and made several purchases on behalf of the new owner, who will remain in Europe.

A manager is expected to arrive from Germany this year to take over the property.

TRAIL (CP) — A proposal by the Nelson Chamber of Commerce and the Nelson school board that a junior college be established in the West Kootenay district, preferably at Nelson, met opposition from Trail school trustees. Trail school board chairman R. E. Walton said the province's first duty was to bring the University of British Columbia accommodation, equipment, teaching facilities and faculty up to a desirable level.

DUNCAN (CP)—Joseph Mottishaw, 79, this Vancouver Island city's first policeman, died Thursday. He became a policeman in 1912.

COMOX (CP) — Leonard Roy Burchell, 32-year-old foreman with a logging company here, Thursday was elected to fill a vacancy on the five-man Comox village council. He was given 94 votes while his only opponent, Howard McQuinn, got 52. About 25 per cent of the eligible voters cast ballots. Burchell's term ends Dec. 31.

PARKSVILLE (CP) — John F. R. Hickey, Parksville carpenter, was elected by acclamation as village commissioner to fill a vacancy on the five-man board caused by the recent resignation of Victor Finholm. Mr. Hickey's term ends Dec. 31.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Damages totalling $20,500 were awarded Walter Joseph Greer, 64, of Vancouver Thursday in Supreme Court by Mr. Justice H. A. Maclellan. The award was made as a result of a bus accident at Powell River when Mr. Greer's foot was crushed as the bus was pulling into a loading bay.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Appeals of Peter Roy Brown and Oliver David Waterman from three-year sentences imposed when convicted at the Vancouver assizes of theft, Thursday were dismissed in British Columbia court of Appeal by Mr. Justice Bird. The men were convicted of theft of $153 from a Vancouver drug store Nov. 10, 1958.

Joe Rich Kids Happy

Not everyone was unhappy about the provincial civil servants' strike.

The school children on Joe Rich Canyon, beyond the Philpott Road, were on holidays today, as the school bus was unable to traverse a slide area, to bring them into Rutland school.

And, according to School District No. 23 secretary, Fred Macklin, they may remain on holidays until the strike is over, unless there are emergency highway crews to clear the road.

"I don't imagine the kids will be too unhappy," said Mr. Macklin, who had not yet contacted the department of highways, to find out whether the road would be cleared or not.

School Board Rejects Fringe Benefits Study

The Kelowna school board has refused to reopen its 1958 agreement with district teachers to discuss various clauses dealing with "fringe benefits". The agreement was signed following arbitration held in the latter part of 1958, at which time teachers were awarded a three per cent increase in wages. They had advocated an 11 per cent raise.

Father And Son Banquet Held At Rutland

RUTLAND — The Rutland AOTS Club held a father and son night when some 30 or more sat down to an excellent supper served by the ladies of the Central Circle.

The speaker was Principal Charles A. Bruce, of the Rutland High School, who gave an interesting talk on parent and child relationship. His remarks were interspersed with sufficient humor to make it well received by the audience, varying in age from six to over 60.

Art Taylor introduced the speaker, and he was thanked by Kelly Slater, the chairman.

A contest, involving names of prominent political leaders was held, won by T. Creighton and Donald Adams. This was followed by a number of active games led by Mr. Slater. At the short business meeting the members discussed the annual auction sale, and decided to leave the setting of the date, and other details to the executive. The meeting also decided to handle the sale of boxes of assorted nuts again next Christmas on a larger scale.

It was reported that AOTS Clubs across Canada had raised over $43,000 for their funds by this project last year. The local club cleared $45 by their modest effort, and hope to double this next season. The next meeting of the AOTS will be April 14, and will be "Ladies Night."

NORTH OKANAGAN STONE FRUIT PRODUCTION TO SHOW DECLINE

Stone fruit yields in this area for the 1959 season will be "down considerably," according to local department of agriculture officials.

The statement follows on the heels of a similar report from the Vernon office. The Vernon statement deals mostly with apricots and indicates "prospects for other fruit appears good."

Local officials report all areas from Kelowna, north will probably experience smaller crops in all stone fruits, due to early January's severe frost conditions. However, soft fruit tonnage north of here is fairly light.

Pruning and spraying has started in Oyama, Winfield and Vernon orchards.

Tomatoes are flowering in some greenhouses while peppers and cabbages are above ground and will be replanted outside in May.

Rutland Boy Scouts Are Making Plans To Attend Camp Apr. 4-5

RUTLAND — The Rutland Scout leaders held a court-of-honor meeting at the home of assistant Scoutmaster Cliff Schell recently, and made plans for the spring. With Troop Leader Jim Gray presiding, the meeting, which had a 100 per cent attendance of leaders, arranged for a bottle and paper drive on March 21. This drive last fall netted the troop $135 and the boys hope to duplicate this next weekend. The troop will hold a weekend camp April 4 and 5. The site of the camp will be Munson's cabin, north of the ski-bowl, if road conditions are favorable by that time. The meeting decided to ask the group committee to purchase five small tarpaulins for patrol kitchen and table shelters. Scout Mervyn Geen was transferred to the Beavers to the Eagle Patrol, and was promoted to be Second. Three new recruits, Larry Kornze, Robert Fahlan and Arthur Betke were assigned to patrols. The troop now has three patrols of seven Scouts, and two patrols of six. The meeting also decided to purchase plywood sheets, to make five portable table-tops for use in Camp. The troop will have one Scout, PL Dick Yamaoka, attending the Queens Scout investiture at Victoria in Easter week.

Westbank Plans 4-H Lamb Club

WESTBANK — Organization of another 4-H Lamb Club will take place this evening at the home of Wyndham Lewis, to which boys and girls of Westbank and Lakeview Heights are invited. Youngsters of 10 years or thereabouts are eligible, and those unable to attend tonight's meeting are invited to contact Mr. Lewis of their intention to become members.

Proving popular in the past, it is expected that this season's club will attract many boys and girls, all of whom will receive instructions on the care of their lambs, and how to keep required records. A 4-H Club exhibit is featured at the Armstrong Fair. Lambing starts about mid-April, and dates for regular meetings will be set at this week's meeting so that the club will get an early start.

TO AMEND REVENUE ACT

VICTORIA (CP)—An act to amend the Revenue Act was introduced recently in the British Columbia legislature, paving the way for the day British Columbia will be declared free of net debt.

The legislation, long and technical, provides that when the province has as much in its sinking funds as it owes, then a certificate can be prepared stating this is so.

In effect this will be the official declaration that B.C. is free of net debt. Probable date for such an announcement is Aug. 2, 1960 eighth anniversary of the day Social Credit took office in B.C.

Harold Johnston Takes Over Frank's Novelty, Gift Shop

The same policy of service first to customers will continue at Frank's Novelty and Gift Shop, 243 Bernard.

Residents of the district have been assured of this by the new owner of the thriving business, Harold Johnston.

Mr. Johnston succeeds Frank Yeoman, who with his wife Eleanor has operated the shop for three years.

Mr. Yeoman and his family plan to take a well deserved holiday "once we get things cleaned up" around the shop.

A resident of Kelowna for more than 10 years, Mr. Yeoman and his family are well-known locally. He came here following his discharge from the RCAF. Prior to operating the gift store, Mr. Yeoman was accountant at the Kelowna General Hospital. He says he will probably re-enter the accounting field in Kelowna when "The holiday is over."

The new owner, Mr. Johnston, plans no radical changes to the store itself or the familiar service policy of the store. "Frank did a good job, and I hope I can too," he said.

Mr. Johnston will operate the business with the assistance of his wife, Marlene.

Mr. Johnston is also well known in the district, having been associated with a transfer company for a number of years.

The father of an 11-year-old son, he says Kelowna is "a good town for kids."

All things considered, the two men have one thing in common. They both go "all out" to please a customer.

Economic Role Of U.K. Outlined By Speaker

By ERIKA PETZOLD

The United Kingdom's three distinct economic roles were emphasized by James Thomson, retired deputy high commissioner for the U.K. in Canada, who addressed this week's meeting of the Canadian Club on "Britain Has Her Problems."

As a producer and trader the U.K. lives by its capacity to export, he said. Secondly, it is an overseas investor, provider of capital to the other areas of the world, and above all to the sterling area. Thirdly, the U.K. is a banker running a major international currency — sterling — and holding the external reserves and the liquid funds not only of the United Kingdom but of many Commonwealth and non-Commonwealth countries.

"In the first half of 1958," the speaker reported, "the value of British exports of goods far exceeded the cost of all the food, raw materials, and manufactured goods, which they imported from all over the world. This was the first time this had happened since the beginning of the century."

SOURCE OF CAPITAL

"Traditionally we have been the source of capital for a developing world," Mr. Thomson continued. "Not only the Commonwealth but a great part of the modern world including the United States, owe the foundations of current prosperity to that investment. Before 1914 Britain exported every year some seven per cent of the national income for investment. After two wars, it still supplied 70 per cent of the external capital raised by Commonwealth countries."

Britain's problem today in relation to the outside world, is how to do all the things they want to do. To invest in the Commonwealth, to improve the living standards of millions of people in Asia and Africa, to keep factories and farms supplied with the most up-to-date plant and machinery, and improve its social services and play a part in defence.

"Britain," said the speaker, "has now embarked on a large scale program for developing nuclear power. Twelve new atomic power stations are being designed and built. They will be completed by 1965. They will generate between five and six million kilowatts—one-quarter of Britain's growing power needs. By 1975 half of Britain's power may be generated by atomic stations. Nuclear power will be doing the work of 18 million tons of coal a year by 1965 and perhaps 50 million tons of coal by 1975."

Mr. Thomson continued, "we have had many practical indications that world revolution is still fundamentally the Russian purpose. Direct military attack being somewhat risky the approved pattern is to infiltrate, to subvert, to encourage revolt against authority, to install a pro-Soviet government. The end is a fully fledged Soviet-dominated puppet government. The process varies from country to country but Communist forces are at work all the time. Thus Communism has changed what was formerly a clear cut distinction between peace and war. For now we live in an age of continual war—cold war—a never ending struggle between two opposing forces. To most of us who think about it, it is a struggle between good and evil, said Mr. Thomson.

"The only effective answer we can make is through the unity of purpose, moral influence and strength of the Commonwealth Europe and the U.S.A. The possession by the U.S. and U.K. of the hydrogen bomb has deterred and still deters the Soviet Union from open aggression."

"The Soviet wishes to change the military balance of Europe," said Mr. Thomson, "and undermine Western security while leaving that of the Soviet intact. The loss of West Germany from NATO would mean the loss of defence in depth while the vast preponderance of Soviet armies and air forces in Eastern Europe would remain within easy striking distance of West Germany with unlimited depth of development."

"Can it be doubted after Hungary," Mr. Thomson concluded, "that any popular uprising in Germany would mean the re-entry of the Soviet Army—resistance to which would mean war."

Rutland Pupil Captures Top Poster Prize

Eleanor Zimmer, Rutland Senior High School student, captured top honors in the poster contest sponsored by the North Okanagan Life Underwriters' Association, Kelowna and Vernon districts.

Contest is designed to encourage people turning out to the Red Cross blood donor clinics being held in the valley this spring. The clinic will be held at Vernon March 17-19; Penticton April 7-9, and Kelowna May 5-7.

Other prize winners were: Ruth MacLaurin and Helga Rees, Kelowna High; Ingrid Scheuler, Elfreida Roller and Barbara Thomson, Rutland Junior High; Wayne Klippert, Marilyn Oldham, Josephine Clark, Bernie Van Sickle (honorable mention), Vernon Senior High; and Tomlyo Sasaki and Kathy Minato, Vernon Junior High.

TEDDIES CROWNED VALLEY CHAMPS

A couple of happy Teddies were the two gals gagging it up above. Members of the Kelowna Meikle Teddies Bears, senior "B" provincial basketball champions, they won their third consecutive valley title last night, and the right to advance to the B.C. finals, to be held here next weekend. On the left, the club rookie, 17-year-old Almira "Honey" Cook sinks a "basket" while the only remaining five-year veteran of the club, Frances Taylor, makes like a hoop.

Teddies Edge Victory, To Host B.C. Play-Off

Kelowna's Teddy Bears were neither "tired" nor "little" last night. They were a happy bunch of gals in shorts as they beat the Vernon Hotels, 30-27, to take the Okanagan Mainline championship in three straight games, and become provincial senior "B" women's basketball finalists for the third straight year.

The hustling Teddies, who have never lost a league or play-off game in two full seasons of play, had a close call last night, however, when the Hotels came up with a burst of scoring that brought them to within tickling distance of the champs.

Marg Fielder paced the Teddies last night with 10 points, but the championship squad found their shots rimming the basket or falling short, as both their shooting and play-making seemed to be less crisp than usual.

Sporting a skinny 15-12 lead at quarter time, the Teddies showed more power in the second quarter, and had a 29-18 lead at the half-way mark.

They went into a slump in the second half, however, only man-

Russia's Late Comeback Paves Way For The Macs

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (CP) — Russia staged a late comeback to defeat Czechoslovakia 4-3 Thursday night and in doing so smoothed Canada's way to the world hockey title. The Canadians, who blanked Sweden 5-0 earlier in the day, now lead the six-team final round of the tournament with three victories and no losses. The Czechs were unbeaten before Thursday night and needed a win to stay on even terms.

The defeat dropped Czechoslovakia into a three-way tie for second place with Russia and the United States, each with two wins and a loss. All six clubs have two games left to play.

ROUGH GAME The Czechs hit the Russians with everything they had in an effort to slow down their fast-moving passing attacks. They succeeded, in a penalty-strewn match, but the Soviet side proved stronger at the finish.

The Canadians, obviously feeling the effects of their 3-1 victory over Russia the previous evening, were below their best against Sweden but the undermanned losers—four men short because of injuries and illness—were incapable of keeping up with them.

"It wasn't a great game," coach Ike Hildebrand said afterwards. "We were just tired. Besides, we built ourselves up for the game against Russia and it's hard to keep up that pace."

The Belleville squad will be able to relax today as the only games scheduled are between the two winless teams, Finland and Sweden, and the U.S. and Czechoslovakia.

Belleville scored only once against the Swedes in the ragged first period and added two more goals in each of the last two frames.

The scorers were Hildebrand, Wayne Brown, George Gosselin, Bart Bradley and Lou Smrke.

McKenney's Burst Hits Rangers 2nd Spot Hopes

Every now and then Don McKenney of Boston comes up with a night that reminds people he is one of the better hockey players in the National Hockey League.

Such a night was Thursday, when he set up three goals and scored one—the winning one—as Boston Bruins picked off New York Rangers 5-4.

The goal was his 29th of this season. It topped by one McKenney's personal goal scoring record in the NHL.

While McKenney was proving his claim to being one of the better players, New York's Andy Bathgate picked the same night to prove he is one of the best.

Bathgate scored two goals and collected one assist for his second three-point night in two days. The goals were his 38th and 39th and he is now tied with Montreal's Jean Beliveau for the league leadership in goalgetting.

With 83 points, he is one ahead of Beliveau and only three points behind Montreal's pace-setting Dickie Moore in the points race.

Rangers' loss left them fourth place with 62 points and spoiled their chances of overtaking the third-place Bruins. Boston now has 65 points, only two less than the second-place Chicago Black Hawks. One more Boston win—or one more loss by Toronto Maple Leafs—and the Bruins will clinch a spot in the four-team playoffs alongside Chicago and Montreal.

Rangers and Bruins finished the first period tied 2-2 Thursday night on goals by Jerry Toppazzini and Fleming Mackell of Boston and Bathgate and defence-man Bill Gadsby for New York.

Rangers' Larry Popein and Jim Morrison of the Bruins traded goals in the second before Earl (Dutch) Reibel put Bruins ahead.

McKenney's winner came at 5:28 of the third and Bathgate made it 5-4 15 seconds before the game ended.

Bathgate gets two good chances to overtake the NHL's scoring leaders this weekend, when the Rangers play a home-and-home series with the fifth-place Toronto Maple Leafs. The first game of the series is at Toronto Saturday.

The Canucks, trailing first place Seattle by 11 points, increased their margin over third place Victoria Cougars to nine. Both Canucks and Cougars have six games remaining.

The result left the Quakers in a shaky position. They lead Winnipeg Warriors by two points in a fight for third and last playoff spot in the Prairie Division. Each has four games remaining.

Tonight's action could go a long way in settling the playoff picture, at least on the coast. The Canucks travel to Winnipeg and a loss by the Warriors could be disastrous.

CAN CLINCH BERTH Victoria can assure itself of a playoff spot with a victory over the Totems at Seattle. But the big match is a four-point game between New Westminster and Spokane at Penticton, B.C.

The Royals, all but counted out of the playoffs two weeks ago, have made a stirring comeback and have won their last three. Spokane has fallen into a tailspin and a loss to the Royals would cut their margin over New Westminster to four points. Royals have also played one game less.

The game between Royals and Flyers was originally scheduled for March 7 but Flyers' home rink was taken by an ice show and the game was rescheduled for Penticton.

Danny Belsie, a full rookie who joined Canucks this season after a year with Shawinigan Falls of the Quebec League, paced Vancouver with two goals, both in the third period.

Other Vancouver goals were scored by Gary Blaine, Brent Macnab, and Ray Cyr. Paul Masnick, Sandy Hucul and Bob Macle scored for Saskatoon.

Packers Try Dose Of Deep Therapy

Coach Jack O'Reilly tried at one win apiece, and three "deep therapy" on his slumping Packers last night.

The volatile Irish mentor, whose monumental outbursts are accepted as an integral part of the game by the boys who wear the big red maple of the Kelowna Packers, settled for a quiet talk and a good rest last night, instead of a rousing practice.

Presumably acting on the premise that his boys are keyed to the pitch and fully aware of the need to come through tonight in Vernon and get another handhold on the skin-tight OSHL final series between themselves and the battered-but-bustling former Allan Cup champion Vernon Canadians, O'Reilly went for a stroll while his boys talked it over among themselves, then came back into the room to add his words, before sending them home to rest.

PRE-SEASON FAVORITES

Seen as the pre-series favorites, by virtue of their league record (26 points better than Vernon) and the won-lost record against coach George Agar's Canadians, the Packers are now only an even money bet in most circles, as the series stands tied.

Bugle Blowers Boost Braves

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles Dodgers have a new gimmick they hope will help blow them into the National League's first division: Toy bugles.

"We've ordered 20,000 bugles to start and if the demand warrants we'll order more," Danny Goodman, head of Dodger concessions, said Thursday. The foot-long bugles will sell for $1.

Inspiration for the horns came from a fan who regularly brought his real bugle to games last season. Whenever the Dodgers were on the verge of a rally—which wasn't often—he would rise in his seat and blow.

Then all the fans would yell: CHARGE.

ONTARIO: The Whitby Dunlops have won their semi-final, and face either Kingston or Hull-Ottawa in the final. In the other half of the province's play, Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen are leading Chatham, 1-0 in games in their final. A rough guess would be Whitby and Kitchener as finalists.

SEVENTH GAME HERE

But tonight all the Allan Cup play that the Packers can handle will be seen on the Vernon Civic Arena ice surface, with the final game of the series in Kelowna and District Memorial Arena at 8 p.m. tomorrow, unless an eighth game is necessary.

Should Kelowna or Vernon win tonight, they will only need a tie tomorrow to win the series. Should they win one apiece, an eighth and deciding game will have to be played on Monday.

This eighth game would be played on neutral ice, or such other ice as the clubs mutually agreed upon.

GORGEOUS GEORGIE LOST LOVELY LOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — Gorgeous George lost a wrestling match and paid a fearful price.

Perfumed golden locks — his trademark for years — no longer crown his head.

George had made a vow before going into the feature event Thursday night at Maple Leaf Gardens against Toronto's Billy (Whipper) Watson. If he lost, off would go the hair.

Watson, not to be outdone, said if George beat him he would quit the ring.

The bout was 10 minutes and 21 seconds old when Watson was about to render Gorgeous George hors de combat with a commando hold. Then into the ring barged Gene Kiniski of Edmonton. He belted Watson loose and George was disqualified.

White-coated George Hansen of the Gardens barber shop advanced to the podium, brandishing electric clippers and humming Figaro's aria.

George protested loudly that he shouldn't lose his locks on a disqualification. But referee Joe Gollob and four wrestlers, including Watson, held George while Hansen plied his trade.

"KNOW YOUR PACKERS"

Ability, Yen To Travel Fill Packers' Batchelor

"Have ability, will travel."
This is the motto of Clare Wakelin, the durable, 22-year-old centre who came to the Kelowna Packers this year as a pivot for veteran wingers Jim Middleton and Brian Roche. Crew-cut and quiet, he has the dubious distinction of being the club's last bachelor.

"The best wingers I ever played with in senior hockey," is the way Clare describes his port and starboard pack carries, and the line is shaping up to be one of the really effective units on the club.

BASEBALL, TOO

Born in the small Manitoba town of Waskesburg, April 21, 1936, Clare moved to Winnipeg when he was a youngster, and played his junior hockey with the Monarchs there, and his baseball with the Winnipeg Buffaloes, junior, and the Elmwood Giants senior.

Two years ago, he came out to the Kamloops hockey camp and signed with the Penitents V's that season, after coach Hal Tarala picked him up. That summer, he stayed in Penitents and played ball with the Red Sox, the senior club in the Okanagan Mainline League, archrivals of the Kelowna Orioles.

Offered a pro contract by Seattle, Clare has not signed there, and aside from two play-off games last fall with Victoria Cougars, and two league games this year, he has had no pro affiliation. He did work out with the Seattle Americans, however, playing with the team when they played the Packers in exhibition last fall.

UNFORGETTABLE EXPERIENCE

Last November, he joined the Packers at the coast, when they were on the eve of departure for Europe, and went along on what he terms, "an experience I'll never forget."

Fascinated by the Swedish sports set-up, the enthusiasm which is evidenced by the fans there, and the amount of prestige awarded athletes, he would like to make a more leisurely trip over there to take a closer look at the country.

He would like to take a look at England, where there are a number of Manitoba boys toting pucks for a living, and thoroughly in love with their adopted country. But after he has a fling at looking around this stocky young man with the China-blue eyes and the ruby-red temper would like to settle down in the valley.

LACK OF PROMOTION

"It's a proven fact that the valley can support senior 'A' hockey," is his opinion. He feels, however, that there has been a lack of healthy promotion for hockey in the four cities and districts of the league as a whole.

In his young life, he has sold the Allan Cup trail. Should he work at clerical jobs, and his team-mates manage to "bulldoze" in a steel factory and do this, he will probably be still working for a customs broker, toting a puck this year when he This summer, he plans to return, turn 23, home and work at construction. Should they not, it will be a of some type to stay in shape, long summer.

West Van's Zone Upsets Favorites

VANCOUVER (CP)—Underdog West Vancouver Highlanders Thursday night upset Abbotsford 28-25 in the championship round of the 14th annual British Columbia Boys' High School Basketball championships.

Employing a solid zone defence against their taller opponents, West Vancouver jumped into a 13-11 lead at the end of the first quarter, stretched it to 28-16 by half time and held a 33-22 three-quarter lead.

Abbotsford finally solved the Highlanders' defence and paced by six-foot seven-inch Barry Forest, rapidly closed the gap. However, time ran out and Highlanders won the thriller.

In other action in the championship round, defending champion Lord Byng of Vancouver edged stubborn Queen Elizabeth of North Surrey 32-29, Courtenay romped to a 48-22 win over North Surrey and Victoria downed Vancouver College 35-34.

In consolation round action, Trail knocked highly-rated Lester Pearson of New Westminster out of further play with a thrilling 56-44 victory; King Edward turned back Esquimalt 49-40; Alberni whipped Kelowna 37-25 and Penitents defeated Port Moody 42-36.

Today West Vancouver meets off a sensational 21-point effort, by diminutive Mike Penney of Lester Pearson.

Penitents won its game the hard way, coming from behind in the second half to Port Moody. Alberni trailed Kelowna 18-12 at half time, but the Okanagan school couldn't match their closing pace and were knocked out of the tournament.

West Vancouver stunned more than 2,500 fans with their victory. They halted the scoring attempts of Forest by putting a double check on him.

Gord Betcher with 14 points paced Courtenay to their one-sided victory over North Surrey. North Surrey was never able to get an effective attack under way against the speedy Vancouver Island squad.

Victoria eliminated Vancouver College from the championship race, taking the lead in the last quarter and then matching the mainland team basket-for-basket for the remainder of the game.

Dave Black scored 18 points to lead Victoria.

The Trail Hawks knocked out Lester Pearson on the sparkling play of Allan Fabbro and Allan Polloch. Polloch scored 18 points and Fabbro 14 which more than offset a sensational 21-point effort, by diminutive Mike Penney of Lester Pearson.

Princess Margaret Queen Mother At Style Show

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret went fashion hunting Wednesday on a closed circuit show got up by Britain's 11 designers to what the royal appetite.

With Queen Mother Elizabeth, the pretty princess watched a two-hour private parade given by 33 models in 96 garments.

In the exclusive circle of London's fashion creators, only three have really got a hold on the big palace trade. Norman Hartnell, Hardy Amies and Victor Stiebel among them have dressed out many royal tours overseas.

For the other eight, the patronage of the Queen or her sister is a remote chance.

The show went on in a secreted Mayfair salon where cafe society rubbed shoulders with the fashion dictators.

Pinnacles of fashion were on duty to guard £200,000 worth of jewels worn by the models.

The show included 39 dresses designed for the occasion. Ideas conformed with the spring selections unveiled in January. Waists were there, neck lines relatively high, hem lines an inch below the knees and there was no attempt to camouflage the natural figure.

Princess Margaret, wearing a sea green dress under a pink coat, applauded many of the items.

Former Brewery Executive Swaps Career For Medicine

By STEWART MACLEOD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — Tim Sick went home from work in Calgary one day last fall and casually announced to his wife that he was quitting his job and was going to study medicine.

His wife, Shirley, was amazed. Tim seemed happy as general manager of Sicks' Breweries Limited, he drew a handsome salary and he had a ready-made future in the family business. Besides, he had already gone through one university to get a degree in economics.

Shirley, trim and pretty 24-year-old daughter of Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan, says her amazement soon changed to pleasure. "I was really happy for Tim. I knew he was going to fulfill a lifelong ambition."

In a few weeks they had sold their spacious house, their car and all their furniture. Then they packed up and headed for England where Tim enrolled as a pre-med student with the University of London. That was last November.

Since then, says 27-year-old Tim, "I think I have been happier than I have ever been before."

Life is different for the Sicks in London. Instead of golf, social entertainments and easy-going living, they are both involved in hectic work schedules.

Tim attends classes every day and studies about five hours in the evening. Shirley, an actress manager who graduated from the Royal Academy of Art, gets up about 5 a.m. to do a filmed television series for an independent American company. She usually goes to bed early after supper. Tim studies till midnight.

It's only on weekends that they can relax together.

Tim, a handsome, dark-haired six-footer, tried to explain why he is so happy in this situation.

"I always wanted to be a doctor, and now I feel I am doing what I want, so there are no sacrifices on my part. It would be nice if I could say I sell newspapers to work my way through, but it isn't like that. We are not hard up financially."

He says Shirley, "who has been disappointed, but he has become reconciled to the idea now."

Soon Tim and Shirley will move from their compact and comfortable apartment into a house they are buying. They will be in London at least six years.

Tim's plans, beyond that, are hazy. "I wouldn't even guess," he says. "It's one thing to start university, and another thing to finish, so for the next few years I will concentrate on getting through."

Shirley thinks he will make it. "Tim is very determined and when he decides to do something he does it."

A few days later Shirley, a vital brown-haired girl loaded with personality, gave a different version. "This is a tremendous thing for me. It gave me an opportunity to return to show business. Tim is the one who has to work so hard—I really admire him."

The Sicks expect to become parents in September, and after that Shirley hopes to return to the west end stage. When she was in London between 1951 and 1955 she spent about 18 months starring in the musical comedy Wonderful Town.

During part of this period Tim was in Korea, a lieutenant in the United States Army. He enlisted after graduating from Princeton University and when he was discharged in 1954 he took over as manager of Sicks' Brewery in Regina. About a year later Shirley went home for a vacation and the two met. The following year they were married and living in Calgary, where Tim was born.

FATHER RECONCILED

All through college Tim says he "steered towards the beer business" by studying business subjects. His father, Emil, who heads the Sicks' Rainier Brewing Company in Seattle, always wanted Tim, his only son, to carry on the family firm.

Tim happily went along with the business until last fall when Molson's Brewery of Montreal offered to buy the five Sicks' breweries in Western Canada. After advising the shareholders to accept, Tim decided it was a good time to get out.

He says his father was "quite disappointed, but he has become reconciled to the idea now."

Soon Tim and Shirley will move from their compact and comfortable apartment into a house they are buying. They will be in London at least six years.

Tim's plans, beyond that, are hazy. "I wouldn't even guess," he says. "It's one thing to start university, and another thing to finish, so for the next few years I will concentrate on getting through."

Shirley thinks he will make it. "Tim is very determined and when he decides to do something he does it."

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. JAY BECKER

(Top Record-Holder in Masters' Individual Championship Play) QUIZ

You are South, neither side vulnerable. The bidding has been:

West North East South

1 ♠ 2 ♦ 3 ♣ 4 ♠

What would you now bid with each of the following four hands?

1. ♠KJ762 ♥8 ♣9654 ♦AQ3

2. ♠A743 ♥A95 ♦762 ♣J86

3. ♠Q8 ♥KJ94 ♦QJ732 ♣K6

4. ♠Q853 ♥— ♦A784 ♣KJ752

What would you now bid with each of the following four hands?

1. Two spades. In responding to partner's takeout double, care must be taken to distinguish a good hand from a poor one. Since the responder may have a worthless hand when he replies to the double he is under obligation to identify a good one when he has it. This he does by making a skip bid instead of a minimum bid.

If a response of one spade were made on this hand, the doubler would have no way of knowing that a 10-point hand, including a good five card suit and a singleton, was facing him. A sound game contract might be missed as a result. As a general rule, the responder makes a jump bid when he has better than average hand.

2. One spade. It may be argued that this is not a biddable suit, but, since the responder acts under the compulsion of his partner's double, he cannot be held responsible for the texture of the suit he bids. The doubler is expected to tread delicately over his partner's forced response until such times as the responder voluntarily makes a forward bid.

It is better to respond one spade than one notrump. The latter bid is reserved for hands where the responder has seven, eight or nine high card points that include a stopper in the adverse suit.

3. Two notrump. There is a strong possibility once partner has doubled, that this is a game-going hand. Since the responder has 12 high card points facing at least an opening bid, as represented by the informative double, he is required to make a jump bid to identify these values.

It is likely that the best game contract lies in notrump. For this reason a jump response of three diamonds is avoided. A three diamond bid would infer distributional values which the hand does not have.

4. Two hearts. There should be no doubt that this hand will produce game opposite a double, but where the game lies is at this point uncertain. Rather than try to guess which of the three available suits would be the most satisfactory as trump, the responder pushes the selection of the trump suit back to the doubler by making a cuebid of the opponent's suit.

The intention is to raise directly to game whatever suit the doubler chooses in response to the two heart cuebid.

Sex Hormones Used To Treat Asthmatics

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Now they are using sex hormones to treat asthma—and, reportedly, with favorable results thus far.

Recent studies in France indicate that if the asthma has been triggered or made worse by hormonal disturbances, the use of sex hormones frequently brings successful results.

The studies were conducted on a total of 555 patients, so apparently the French have some reliable information to back up their reports.

However, the patients have to be carefully selected and the doses must be controlled.

Many of the patients participating in the study had asthma which was aggravated shortly before or during the menses.

In some cases, this is associated with a deficit of estrogen.

THE REMEDY

The remedy for such a situation, according to French doctors, is to give the patient a small dose of estrogen orally and then two injections of progesterone during the second half of the menstrual period.

More common than estrogenic deficit is an excess of the hormone. In these cases, the French prescribe injections of progesterone or testosterone during the second half of the cycle.

These doctors have found that sometimes the addition of other drugs will aid hormone treatment. These include histidine, diuretics and vitamin E.

Androgenic therapy is suggested when asthma develops during the time of menopause.

The studies show that a single injection a month is often effective.

When asthma is associated with pregnancy, the doctors suggest progesterone treatment.

GOOD RECORD

Their studies show good record, especially in treating asthma connected with pregnancy. With patients whose asthma began during the first three months of pregnancy, the French doctors report "striking results" in more than 75 per cent of the cases.

It hardly need be said that this hormone therapy won't work in all cases. And in several of the cases studied by the French, it had to be withdrawn after it was begun.

It does show, however, that medical science is coming up with something different all the time to aid the asthmatic.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. A. W. R.: I am taking vitamins B and C by mouth and injections of B-12 and have a reaction from acid foods in the form of a stinging burning tongue and bad taste after eating. What do you think may be the cause, and what might be the treatment.

Answer: Burning tongue and bad taste may be due to many causes, including dentures, rough teeth, metallic dental fillings, allergies, stomach disorders and emotional disturbances. It is common in older people. Your doctor should determine the cause and prescribe the best treatment.

People Do Read Small Ads.... You Are!

YOUR HOROSCOPE

By ESTRELLITA

FOR TOMORROW

This will be a day in which you can make excellent progress in both job and monetary affairs, but you will have to exercise good judgement. Sidestep all visionary schemes.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates a definite upturn in financial matters during the coming year. There may be brief periods during April, September and November when the budget suffers but, if you tackle your problems realistically, you can straighten them out satisfactorily. Opportunities to increase earnings should come in May and/or June, and other financial gains are indicated during July and December.

Personal matters will be under generous influences for most of 1959 and, through such relationships, you should experience great happiness. Look for a chance to travel during the latter half of July and, if single, new romance, and possibly marriage, may occur during the same month; also in October and December. Home and health matters will be under generally good influences for most of the year ahead.

A child born on this day will be extremely affectionate and unusually sympathetic toward those in distress.

Allied Artists Produce Big Circus On Old MGM Acres

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Well, sir, it was just like the good old days. The mammoth stage was covered with yellow sawdust and three multi-hued rings. Hundreds of extras cheered from the stands as the floats and elephants and clowns paraded by. Scores of dancing girls twirled and whirled. You'd think there never had been a depression in Hollywood! There has, of course. Evidence there wasn't another sound country, but I think the boy movie being made at MGM that day. And even the makers of The Big Circus, who were bucking trend, were renters of space at the once-thriving studio. The picture is being produced by Allied Artists.

CATCHING UP

Besides affording a whiff of the good old days, the picture gave me a chance to catch up with some old friends. Here is what I learned from them: Peter Lorre—"As soon as I finish here, I've got to rush to Spain where Mike Todd Jr. is waiting for me to start his Smelting Picture. Yes, I know it sounds corny, but I think the boy movie being made at MGM that day. And even the makers of The Big Circus, who were bucking trend, were renters of space at the once-thriving studio. The picture is being produced by Allied Artists.

Agriculture, University Aid Gets Cross-Country Airing

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Agriculture, energy and university student-aid were among the topics that merited debate in sitting legislatures across the country.

At Toronto Premier Frost said his Progressive Conservative government will introduce shortly legislation to set up a department to deal with energy resources.

The premier made the announcement after several opposition members rose to plead that steps be taken to ensure the Elliot Lake uranium mines do not suffer the same fate as the Avro Aircraft Company.

TIED TO U.S. WHIM
Albert Wren (L—Kenora) described Elliot Lake as "another great Canadian development handcuffed to the whim of the American government and policy."

He said the United States has indicated it will not buy Canadian uranium after contracts expire in 1962.

The Alberta legislature received a bill calling on the government to seek more strict federal laws against crime comics and salacious literature.

Mrs. Rose Wilkinson (SC—Calgary) said the province's advisory board on objectionable publications has been hampered because there are no effective federal laws governing the publication and sale of such literature in this country.

Moreover, she said, there have been indications in recent years of an increase in the volume of obscene publications. Debate on Mrs. Wilkinson's measure was adjourned.

Trade and Industry Minister Manson told the Nova Scotia legislature the outlook for building a $10,000,000 chemical pulp mill in eastern Nova Scotia "is very encouraging to me at this time."

SWEDISH FIRM

The government has an agreement with Nova Scotia Pulp Limited to start building the mill by June 30. The firm is a subsidiary of Stora Kopparberg of Sweden.

The Saskatchewan legislature unanimously approved a resolution requesting a federal-provincial conference on agriculture.

The vote was 29 to 0 with almost half the members absent.

The resolution was put forward by Fred Dewhurst (PCF—Wadena) who said the act - together with necessary to formulate steps assuring the farmer a stable income and a fair share of the national wealth.

At Fredericton Attorney-General R. G. L. Fairweather tabled the report of a special committee which proposed broad changes in New Brunswick's judicial system.

The report suggests grand juries be abolished and that crown attorneys be appointed.

GRANT SCHOLARSHIPS

The Union Nationale government and the Liberal Opposition tangled in the Quebec House over the matter of aid to university students.

Youth and Welfare Minister Sauve called a government bill setting up a $10,000,000 scholarship fund "very generous."

George Lapalme, Liberal House leader, said it was "inadequate" because it did nothing to solve the problem of students who can't afford to attend a university.

The bill was unanimously approved after the Liberals made two vain attempts to tack on amendments.

Child With Double Personality Robbed By Both Parents

CHICAGO (AP)—Joey was an unloved boy who mentally turned himself into a machine because it was too painful to be human.

He plugged himself in when he ate because he firmly believed electricity powered his digestive system.

He drank through an elaborate piping system built of straws so that, in his fantasy, liquids could be pumped into him.

He strung up wires and a taped-together cardboard apparatus by his bed at night to "live" him while he slept.

He had make-believe motors that ran him through the day and exhaust pipes through which he exhaled.

MECHANICAL BREAKDOWN
When psychiatrists first tried to talk to him, his only reply was, "bam."

The simulated explosion neutralized his machinery, barring human contact.

Bruno Bettelheim, professor of psychiatry and psychology at the University of Chicago, gave this picture of Joey with his fancied machinery idle or broken down: "For long periods of time, he would sit so quietly that he would disappear from the focus of the most conscientious observation. We had to concentrate on recollecting his presence, for he seemed not to exist."

Joey is a schizophrenic child and Bettelheim said it is unlikely his "calamity could befall a child in any time and culture but our own."

ROBBED OF HUMANITY
Writing in Scientific American,

Bettelheim described Joey as a child robbed of his humanity by being completely ignored since birth by both parents. He gave this account:

The parents didn't mistreat Joey but displayed entirely indifferent and mechanical reactions to his crying or non-crying, sleeping or awakening, or bathroom habits. His obedience gave them no satisfaction and won him no satisfaction or approval. He was unable to establish a relationship.

The boy was treated when he was nine years old. After long attempts to make emotional contact, the doctors finally won his trust.

Joey reverted to a partially human stage—but as an infant.

Bettelheim said:

"Joey at last broke through his prison. Suffice it to say that he ceased to be a mechanical boy and became a human child. This newborn child was, however, nearly 12 years old. To recover the time lost is a tremendous task. Sometimes he sets to it with a will; at other times the difficulty of real life makes him regret he ever came out of his shell. But he never has wanted to return to his mechanical life."

WORLD NEWS

TRAPPED BY STREETCAR

TORONTO (CP)—Mary Kay Eggle, 14, escaped with minor head injuries when she was trapped under a streetcar for 20 minutes. Officials said she was about to board a crowded streetcar through the exit doors when the operator closed them. She apparently clung to the hand rail on the outside of the car and was dragged a short distance before being brushed off by a platform abutment. When the tram stopped she was jammed between it and the abutment.

OPINION FROM U.S.

OTTAWA (CP)—The Senate committee on land use may ask for the views of United States rural development experts. Senators suggested obtaining information about the U.S. program aimed at aiding the small, low-income farmer and that a representative of the U.S. rural development program be asked to testify. A steering group will study the suggestions.

SHIPMENTS DOWN

OTTAWA (CP)—January shipments by Canadian manufacturers were valued at $1,716,187,000—a drop of two per cent from the revised December value by the bureau of statistics but up five per cent from the corresponding total of $1,641,308,000 a year earlier. The bureau figures indicated the dip was less than the seasonal average from December to January.

ILLNESS IN SCHOOLS

MONTREAL (CP)—Schools in the Montreal area reported a high incidence of absenteeism because of illness but an official of the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal said the illness could not be described as being of epidemic proportions. The wave of absences was perhaps five to 10 per cent higher than it is normally at this time of the year, he said.

LOBSTERS SCARCE

HALIFAX (CP)—A scarcity of lobsters because of the severe winter has boosted prices sky high, general manager W. Stanley Lee of National Sea Products said here. He said Maine and Nova Scotia lobster meat is selling in Boston for $6.50 a pound, $2 more than normal.

APOSTOLIC DELEGATE

OTTAWA (CP)—Archbishop Sebastian Baggio, 46, apostolic nuncio to Chile since 1953, has been appointed apostolic delegate to Canada, it has been announced. He succeeds Most Rev. Giovanni Panico who left Ottawa in February to become apostolic nuncio to Portugal.

ACTOR ACQUITTED

LONDON (Reuters)—Cavan John Malone, 22-year-old British television actor, was found not guilty of murder in the death of a drunken man who beat up his mother. The jury in Old Bailey Central Criminal Court took just 12 minutes to acquit and discharge Malone, son of Irish Tenor Danny Malone. He also was acquitted of manslaughter.

Ontario Must Get Special Okay To Arbitrate Disputes

TORONTO (CP)—Attorney-General Roberts says he has told all Ontario judges and magistrates they must get special permission from his department to sit on arbitration and conciliation proceedings in the future.

His announcement followed labor criticism of a recent memorandum which prohibited judges and magistrates from taking part in these proceedings. Union spokesmen said the move was a "serious blow" to labor.

Mr. Roberts said the memorandum was originally intended only to remove the officials from proceedings where they are asked by companies to rule on land valuation and other such civil problems.

"However, I think we'll leave the memo as it stands now. It is not our intention to deal any crippling blow to the labor department, and we will try to answer their needs whenever and wherever possible."

"But this way we will be able to keep on top of the situation and know exactly when and where our people will act."
